Greetings Everyone,

As another season comes a close, allow me to welcome our "NEW" and invite our "Old Friends" to renew their membership to the Sno-burners family for the 2008 season. Our membership year begins July 01, 2007. Renew your membership now! And get ready for a prodigious 2008 season to come.

The fun begins in July with our family day picnic at Rockland State park. Summerfest takes us to the beaches in sunny Nassau Bahamas. As the saying goes "whatever happens at Summerfest this year staysin Nassau". Mark your calendar in September for our annual Whitney Young Football Classic and Tailgate party. Bring an appetite and a chair in the bag. In moving forward to December, ski improvement otherwise known as "tune-up" week moves to "Winter Park" in Colorado. In January, AMCC 2008 celebrates NBS 35th Anniversary in "Breckenridge" Colorado. This AMCC 2008 Activity package allows you to ski several mountains – Vail, Arapahoe Basin, Keystone and Beaver Creek. In February, Eastern Regional Winterfest takes us up to "Mount St. Anne" in Quebec, Canada. Next stop in our ski season take us to Europe, "Brides Les Baines" in France.

In reaching out to everyone's voice, we are also, planning a ski weekend at Sugarbush, Vt. And let's not forget our day trip to Mount Snow on January 05, and Spring Fling to Lake Tahoe, Nevada in April.

At a glance of this past year's Summit at Steamboat in Colorado brought 94 inches of fresh powdered snow during our stay. We were pleasantly surprised with first-ever NBS gift of "terry-cloth bath robes". The week was filled with a choice of parties for any generation and some of the best skiing in the west. We closed the week with our signature "pot luck" dinner, where folks reminisces their techniques on the mountain.

Kudos goes out to Adrian Poinsette aka "Point", for his breakout performance as a trip leader to Big Sky, Montana. More kudos goes out the Sno-Burners' Board of Directors for all their support and efforts throughout the year. We welcome Stephen Kirkland as our newest board member and trip director. Lastly, kudos goes out to all Sno-Burners for supporting NBS Summits, Eastern Regional activities and for those folks for purchasing our titled sponsor Subaru cars. Sno-Burners Ski & Sports was selected the Eastern Region "Champion" award.

In closing we are always looking for Sno-burners to volunteer some of their time to coordinate an event or "to Run" a trip. We have training manuals and in most cases we will pair you with someone with similar experience.

Always, thank you for your Support.

After being away for ten years, the Sno-Burners returned to Big Ski Resort to the delight and excitement of the members that went on the previous trip knowing that there had been many changes to the resort and the surrounding area. Believe me it is hard to put into words the wonders of Big Sky, the comradeship of the skiers, the getting together for breakfast, happy hours and late evening gatherings that included a lot of chatting card playing and discussion of the day's activities. Just the sight of the majestic mountain peak is enough to really get the adrenalin flowing. There were many changes at the base, new condos and hotels were everywhere. Quite frankly, some of those buildings just got in the way of our egress to the lifts. We were glad to see that with all the restoration to the hotel, the great bear was still in the lobby to greet us as we wondered in.

It had not snowed at Big Ski for quite some time when we arrived it was blessed with 30 inches of beautiful spring snow. We spent the first day getting use to the lack of oxygen and testing the spring snow. Many tried skiing the bowls and found out the mountain was offering terrains that should not be messed with. On the third day "To the top" was the cry. Some came down via the gondola and some braved the trails down. We had three days of glee and than the first rain and freeze occurred. The hotshots, ran out early in the morning to find corduroy and crude which chased them back in after two runs. The seasoned skiers waited until late morning when they knew the snow would soften to favorable conditions.

We turned evening dining into after ski events at various eateries where skiers from the various eastern clubs met and later found a suitable place for all to gather after the dinner hour. For many it was like a reunion with those skiers we had not seen for quite some time on recent ski trips. A group of ladies, that are members of the Sno-Burners, nicknamed themselves "The Silver Foxes". The group consisted of ladies that have accumulated more than 25 years of skiing together. Later in the week, members of the Sno-Burners joined in the lobby with members of the other clubs for a happy hour of wine, music and snacks. Those clubs that were staying in condos invited us to their pot luck dinners at the end of the week.

By the end of the week the snow was gone, the help had disappeared, the main restaurant in the hotel had closed down and we were ready to head home. It seems we brought the snow and we took the snow with us when we left.

I for one look forward to going back again one day. We have been at the beginning of the season and at the end. Next time we can go mid-season.

WINTERFEST 2007 The Mountain Club on Loon Resort Spa and Conference Center Loon, New Hampshire was a new location for many of us. Yes!, we had a good amount of snow and sunshine to go with it. Our welcome party was hosted by several restaurants from the town of Loon that showcased samples of their cuisine to invite our folks to dine in town. Although our numbers for Winterfest were smaller this year the racing participation was good for the adults and the 70 plus youth that attended. In summation the weekend was a success, Loon is a nice mountain to ski and the hospitality was impressive including the free transportation into town until 2:00 A.M. and the fact I must personally say the transportation staff would pass on to the next shift Winterfest members that had not yet returned to the mountain and where you were to be picked up. Now that's service.

EARLY SEASON WARMUP @ SNOWMASS CO.

Let it snow!
Let it snow!
Let it snow!

Early season/Ski Improvement week took place at Snowmass,

Colorado in December 2007. Although the trip was sponsored by the Eastern Region, the other regions were well represented by members of over 30 clubs.

The ski conditions were great for those that just came to enjoy an early ski excursion or came to partake of the various levels of lessons that were offered. We were able to obtain awesome pricing for NBS custom clinics with some of the mountains top instructors. The Never Ever/Novice Program which is FREE included – 3 day lift tickets, lessons and rentals for those individuals that have never been on the boards. As usual, the après-ski events were enjoyed by those that squeeze in, while the evening events combined conversation, raffles and of course learning the dance steps from different parts of the country. Early Season/Ski Improvement week is always a great way to kick off the season it puts you in the ski mood, helps you get in shape and gives you access to lessons before you get into the real steeps and deeps of mid season. Although we are now in the summer season, remember to save your pennies because there will be another early trip next December.

SUMMIT @ STEAMBOAT, COLORADO

Summit 2007 at Steamboat under the direction of our NBS President Rose Pickrum was a skier's dream. By the end of our summit week, 94th inches of fresh deep powder snow covered the town of Steamboat. The Après parties were designed to please everyone, summit goers had a choice "Old School" aka "Generation Now and Then" or "New School" aka as "Generation X". Monday night was one hot steaming night for those folks who visited "Steamboat Strawberry Springs" as the saying goes what happens in Steamboat stays in Steamboat. Moving on to Tuesday evening set the tone for our Eastern Region highly spirited "Block Party" that rocked the house at the Steamboat Grand Resort hotel. To slow it down just a notch for the sold out NBS gala on Wednesday evening proved to be a big success for the Sno Burners Ski & Sports to walk away with the Eastern Regional "Champion" award.

Our signature "Pot Luck" dinner party closed the week on Friday evening. A great time was had by all summit travelers.

See Ya! In 2008, Breckenridge, Colorado for the biggest anticipated celebration, AMCC NBS 35th mini-summit. Let's get ready for the biggest party ever.

ACHIEVEMENT & GOALS SET BY MEMBERS

STAYING PHYSICALLY FIT

During the 80's and 90's the communication industry was going through a rebirth and a great deal of uncertainty. Jan worked for what was known as New York Telephone Company (Ma Bell). For her the "writing was on the wall" and she knew that her time was short at the company. She started looking around for something else that she wanted to do. About 1999 the thought came to her that by marrying what she loved (physical fitness), and the up and coming new service occupation of Physical Fitness Personal Training, would be her future. The occupation itself was not new but offering the service to the masses was new. She spoke to a number of people in the field of sports conditioning including a fellow skier, Marietta Arenberg. She was told about a program at Marymount College of New York that would give her the skills she needed for Physical Fitness Personal Training. By going to school at night, and working full time during the day she managed to complete the course. Completing the course work was no easy task and she came up against obstacles she could not even imagine when she started. Just as she was completing her courses, she was down sized from the company. In May of 2001 she took the national exam for Personal Trainer and Group Fitness Instructor and graduated from school in June of 2002. In October of 2002 her business "Personal Quality Fitness" was born.

Starting a business was a challenge. She had never set up a business before and all kinds of paperwork had to be completed, researched and filed with the proper agencies. Her previous experience with Junior Achievement and business background helped a whole lot.

Now, five years later, she is going strong and just about met all her personal goals. She learned the ins and outs of the business by starting out working in a gym. She is still learning, and everyday is a learning experience. She has been able to experience longevity with some clients during the five years, and has just obtained a year long contract from the New York City Department of Parks. ?

JAN FOSTER

LAW ENFORCEMENT INNOVATOR

The Sno-Burners are proud to announce that The Grand Council of Guardians, a NYS wide African-American Law Enforcement Organization, selected Linda Reynolds along with several other ladies for being Phenomenal Women in Law Enforcement.

Linda was the first African-American Woman in the history of the USA to be appointed Chief Deputy Sheriff/ Under Sheriff. Her appointment took place in 1990. She was awarded a plaque on March 23, 2007. They especially alluded to her being the personal escort for Mohammed Ali during his two day visit following the WORLD TRADE CENTER tragedy and for a career full of firsts and the many improvements she was responsible for in the NYC Sheriffs Office.

NAACP YOUTH LEADER

Long time Sno-Burner Bea Toliver from Huntington, Long Island has been the area's NAACP Youth Director for quite a few years. Her community contributions in this position has meant a lot of hours spent with the youth in developing and executing programs for them and making the overall community know that their youth are positive civic, cultural and educational role models. Besides long hours of advisement, Bea has been able to include her husband on many trips to serve as chaperones and provide personal funds to youth who don't have the means to participate. For her efforts her youth have won local and district NAACP Talent Shows known as ACT-SO. From there, the youth have participated at the Annual NAACP Conventions held all over the United States. Her youth have won national honors, money awards and scholarships in the arts, music, science and oratorical presentations.

Congratulations for past efforts and continued success with the youth in the future as you head to the NAACP Convention in July in Detroit, Michigan.

RETIRING NATIONAL PRESIDENT

After twenty-one years as national president of Immanuel Lutheran College (Greensboro, NC) Alumni Association, Doris Bailey-Reavis is stepping down from that position. Under her leadership, Doris has seen the alumni grow in membership and provide annual cash donations to the local Lutheran Church in Greensboro. It has also provided scholarships to local youth in Greensboro. When integration occurred in the 1960's, and the location of A & T College and Bennett College next door, Immanuel Lutheran College was forced to close its doors. A & T College soon became a university and purchased the land to expand its campus. The association with its local graduates and persistent interaction with A & T University officials was able to have dedication ceremonies and place a monument on the A & T campus last fall, where Immanuel Lutheran College's Administration Building once stood.

After retiring from her administrative assistant position with Southern Westchester BOCES, Doris became more active in her church; became president of the local NAACP; board member of Port Chester Carver Center, Human Development Services, Council of Community Services, and a member of the League of Women Voters, NYNEX Community Advisory Board, Westchester County District Attorney's Community Relations Committee; secretary for the Sno-Burners; and treasurer of a newly formed African American committee concerned about their local presence.

Thanks Doris for your continued commitment to helping others.

TRACI NICOLE JONES

In the fall of 2003 Traci joined the JTL Intermediate School indoor competing Color guard, members of the World Guard International. During the competing season the guard won several chapter competitions in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The guard consisted of 28 girls and 3 boys who performed dance movements while spinning rifles, flags and sabers to music in a 4 minute routine called "New Era." By the end of the competing season the guard had won the 2004 TIA Chapter 2 Championships and placed 3rd in the Tournament Indoor Championships in Wildwood.

The next year the middle school guard was cancelled and Traci, only an eighth grader, was moved up to the high school guard who were in Scholastic A class in the fall of 2004. The guard consisted of 18 girls and 2 boys in the show called "Three Babies" by Sinead O' Connor. The guard traveled throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and also went to Syracuse, NY, Boston, Massachusetts, Tampa, Florida and most importantly, Dayton, Ohio. They were WGI South Brunswick Regional Scholastic A Champions, WGI Northeast Power Regional Scholastic A Champions, WGI Tampa Regional Scholastic A Silver Medalists, WGI Boston Regional Scholastic A Finalists, MAIN Scholastic A Champions, TIA Chapter 2 Scholastic Open Champions, and WGI World Championships Scholastic A Bronze Medalists. Also on May 23, 2005 the guard was asked to perform at the Pennsylvania Capitol, an invitation from Representative Mario Scavello.

In 2005-06 our Scholastic Open the team consisted of 22 girls and 3 boys in a show called "Adagio for Leaves." The team was WGI Mid-Atlantic Power Regional Scholastic Open Finalists, WGI Tampa Power Regional Scholastic Open Champions, MAIN Scholastic Open Champions, TIA All Chapter Championships Scholastic Open Champions, and WGI World Championships Scholastic Open Finalists. The team was then promoted to Scholastic World.

In our 2006-07 season, our Scholastic World the team added some participants from the JTL A guard giving us 26 girls and 2 boys ranging from 7th-12th grade. The show was called "The Shining" based on the Jack Nicholson movie. The team was WGI South Brunswick Regional Finalists, WGI Tampa Power Regional Finalists, MAIN Scholastic World Champions, and TIA All Chapter Scholastic World Champions. Unfortunately at the WGI World Championships in Dayton, Ohio the team fell one place short of finals, but as we all know, there is always next year.

In January, a group of Jr. Burners (consisting of twenty three adults and youth) traveled to Winter Park, Colorado to ski and snowboard in the Rockies. In addition to spending quality time on the snow, they received three days of intensive ski instruction. After a long day on their skis or boards, the youth were able to enjoy the health facilities that was located right on site taking time to ease sore muscles in the hot tub, release tension in the sauna or go for a refreshing swim in the pool.

The group also enjoyed a communal pot-luck supper where everyone contributed a dish to the feast. Rumor has it that the cuisine was quite an international layout with entries from different cultures and ethnic backgrounds. Game nights were also part of the evening of camaraderie containing Bid Whist tournaments that got quite intense.

Sight seeing and shopping was on the agenda for the week as well as the older group accompanied with their chaperones were able to experience a little of Winter Park night life.

It seems the group was so impressed with the trip that they designed and produced T-shirts to commemorate the trip and distributed them to all that attended. The Sno-Burners Ski Club that helps to sponsor the Jr. Burners are always concerned about injuries on trips and events, however the group was able to report that there were no injuries or illnesses during the trip. All the youth agreed that it was a very cool trip and they are making plans to attend the NBS Summit next season.

While we are thrilled to see our youth make strides in their social development and group dynamics, we are also happy and proud at this time to announce the graduation of some of the youth that have put just as much effort into their scholastic endeavors.

Kyle Mallory Johnson Ashley Alvarez and Anasia Washington from high, while Bryant Jackson graduated from middle school. Congratulations to all of you and best wishes for you in your new school.

RAIN DATE JULY 15 2007

From the first cold day in the fall season, usually in November skiers thoughts immediately turn to visions of the white fluffy stuff called snow. These thoughts usually prevail until the first warm day of spring when the snow on the mountain turns to mush and the base lodge becomes a quagmire. Now the question becomes, what sport do those skiers think about as they try to avoid the wife's honey-do list. The Sno-Burners thoughts turn to the "Sport of Kings" and their annual outing to Belmont Park in Queens, NY. This was the third year the club hosted the event to the delight of the past participants and a crop of new comers that attended for the first time. With the numbers growing each year, there were approximately fifty members and their guest that came out to enjoy the excitement of the sport. The day is planned to coin-side with the running of the Kentucky Derby; however other activities caused it to be delayed until the Saturday of the Preakness.

Again the attire for the day was big fancy hats for the ladies, and bowties and straw hats for the gentlemen. This year as usual, we had a sumptuous buffet and were seated in the center of the club house which is comparable to being on the fifty yard line at a football game. With an open view of the entire track, we could see the parade of horses prior to each race; the real racing aficionados could go down to the paddock and really get close and personal with the ponies.

It was interesting to observe that actual betting among the group ranged from coming out to enjoy the day and not betting, to those individuals that could not wait to get to the windows to place their bets. Betting on the horses is a risky business but some of our members have it down to a science by betting to win, place or show they seemed to win a little something on most of the races. Again being on the same day that the Preakness ran at Pimlico Park most stayed to watch that race on the big screen.

Although it was overcast all day, the day turned out to be delightful as the rain held off until after all the races were completed. We must thank Horace Barker for putting in the extra effort to make the arrangements for a splendid day of racing for the organization. We hope that at the end of ski season next year that the "Sport of Kings" attracts more Sno-Burner skiers to Belmont.

Summertime which is synonymous with vacation-time is that time of year when it seems that the hot winds have blown everyone to the far corners of the globe.

People are traveling to the beach, golf course, hiking in the mountains and literally seeing the world. When Labor Day finally gets here, that is the signal for the Sno-Burners to bring their member back home. Our first event of the fall season is the Whitney M. Young Football Classic held at Giant Stadium at the Meadowlands in Rutherford, NJ. Every year it seems that the same two teams play each other usually Morgan State and somebody. At times the game and score can be quite lopsided. This year there will be two new teams in the fray North Carolina Central University vs. Elizabeth City State University will it make a difference? Well if by chance you think that I am trying to tell you something, you're right.

You see it does not matter who plays or which team wins because it's all about the tailgate party. Yes that's right I said it the tailgate party makes the day. Usually the game starts at four o'clock in the afternoon the Sno-Burners dispatch their space savers to the parking lot at ten o'clock in the morning and they encounter groups that have been there since eight o'clock. It's like buying a house it's all about location, location, location you have to be in the right spot for all the action.

You can tell the serious players by the size of the grill and the dining arrangements. Grills range in size from a small table-top to those that must be towed by an SUV. Table arrangement can be a plate on your lap to banquet sized tables with candelabras. You will find some groups that get there so early they serve breakfast, lunch and dinner and then come back for a post-game snack that may last until eleven o'clock at night. Well since you asked, on a scale of 1 to 10, the Sno-Burners would be about an 8. If you have never been to a football classic contact Maxine Spence for information and come help the Sno-Burners kickoff another season but keep one thing in mind it's all about the tailgate.

SUMMERFEST 2006 was our last year in sizzling South Beach Miami, Florida; next year the festivities will convene at Nassau in the Bahamas. This time around we were able to procure accommodations at the beautiful Eden Roc resort which is located right on the beach.

The side lawn was the location for the welcome party where we meet and greet those individuals that we have not seen since Winterfest or last years Summerfest fest. With the music pumping at a fever pitch, we even had the hotel staff dancing and gyrating on the sidelines.

The barbeque was held at a beautiful pool area which at the Eden Roc is located on top of the hotel restaurant.

The weekend festivities included competitive games which were a lot of fun but you could tell that some of the competitors were really getting into it.

“Well let me tell you”, and this is the opinion of this writer the highlight of the weekend was the bathing suit contest to choose the best male and female entries. Believe me the temperature on the pool deck was sizzling but I am sure the bathing suits that were modeled in the contest caused the thermometer to climb a few degrees. The prizes and raffles that were given will make great mementos of the trip.

The boat ride that we had all to ourselves was a sellout with non stop music and dancing. I would say that a good time was had by all. Do to an all-out effort; the boat ride was a sellout thereby allowing us to have the boat to ourselves. With non stop music and dancing, this was just what was needed to put the final touches on a fabulous Summerfest.

ANYONE UP FOR GOLF?

In our effort to position our club as a total leisure and entertainment organization, we have addressed the interest of some members in the sport of golf. Two summers ago we embarked on a program of instruction for those members that wished to learn the fundamentals of the sport. Freager Williams, one of our established members who is interested in golf set up group lessons at the Gunhill Driving Range located on Gunhill Road in the Bronx. From what I understand, lessons are also given at Moshula Park also in the Bronx; and Randall's Island in Manhattan.

He was successful in getting members who showed interest enrolled in beginner lessons. Some of those members are on the verge of moving up to the intermediate level. If a continued interest surfaces, a develop mental program can be established at one or all of the above mentioned locations. The establishment of golf outings and tournaments, would give the organization not only another opportunity for social interaction and camaraderie, it could also be an opportunity for fundraising. Wouldn't it be great to have competition between clubs like we do on the slopes?

If you are interested our golf committee consisting of Horace Barker and Freager Williams are waiting for your call and are willing and able to assist you with your inquiries. You can contact Horace at [212] 230-3645 during the day.

IN MEMORIAM

IRMA FOSTER

Irma Foster, the mother of Janice Foster passes away suddenly on May 10 2007 in Turro California. Mrs. Foster's remains were cremated and during a memorial service on May 21, 2007, her ashes were sprinkled in the Pacific Ocean joining those of her predeceased husband Philip. She is mourned by daughter Janice, son Phil his wife and two grandchildren.

BARBARA RANDELL JAMES

Barbara Randall James, one of the Williams sisters well known among Sno-Burner members passed away after a brief illness in May 2007. Funeral services were held at Our Lady of Refuse church in Brooklyn on May 17, 2007 Burial took place at Evergreen Cemetery.

JAMES A. SKELTON

James A. Skelton father of Janie Hankerson passed away on March 7, 2007 at the JFK Hartwyck Edison Estates Care Center in Edison NJ. He lived to be Ninety Seven years and three days. Although Janie is not a member of the Sno-burners, she is much loved by many of our members that wish to send their condolences and help to ease her grief. Services were held at Skelton A.M.E. Church on March 11, 2007. He is mourned by two daughters, two sons, one brother, six grand's and two great-grand's.

Rest eternal grant to them, O Lord:
And let light perpetual shine upon them.

May their soul, and the souls of all the departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.
